

Basic Obstetric Anaesthesia Day

Wed 12th June 2019

Clinical Skills Centre

Royal Hallamshire Hospital

Sheffield

A practical one day introduction to obstetric anaesthesia for CT1 and 2 anaesthetists, aimed at those who have done little or no obstetric anaesthesia.

Open to and free for all Core/Anaesthetic ACCS trainees in Yorkshire & Humber

A small group, practical hands-on day covering:

Obstetric haemorrhage	General anaesthesia for Caesarean section
Regional anaesthesia	Epidural insertion and management
Pre-eclampsia / eclampsia	Maternal collapse / resuscitation
Failed intubation

For further information and to book a place, please contact Dr Martin Feast, Consultant Anaesthetist & College Tutor, Royal Hallamshire Hospital, Sheffield martin.feast@sth.nhs.uk including your name, grade at the time of the course and where you are working

Although primarily aimed at those who have yet to complete their obstetric anaesthetic competencies, the day has proved useful in the past to those who already have done or who are returning from a break in training and who would like a refresher
