

SuppoRTT Clinical Academic Training Day

Easing transitions between clinical and academic roles

Thursday 13th May 2021 09:30 - 15:45
Delivered online

Open to all Clinical and Academic Trainees in Yorkshire and Humber

The challenges for doctors taking time out of training are increasingly recognised. Clinical Academic Trainees (CATs) will experience multiple, prolonged periods out of clinical training.

This virtual away day is designed to support CATs facing these transitions, influence future solutions, and update academic skills through engaging talks and interactive workshops.

Sessions include:

- Introduction to SuppoRTT - and how can it benefit CATs?
- Facilitated workshop sessions: Coproducing solutions for CATs transitioning between clinical and academic practice. Supported by Nifty Fox Creative.
- Academic skills sessions: Preparing a successful grant application. Delivered by NIHR Research Design Service Yorkshire and Humber.

For more information, any questions, or to book a place please get in touch:

e.c.abbey@sheffield.ac.uk

