I have been a Consultant in Emergency Medicine since 2011 having done my HST training West Yorkshire.

I am a CS, ES, and currently the RCEM College Tutor for EM trainees in York.

I have supervised a number of trainees who have returned to work after periods of absence and realise the importance of a bespoke, well structured and monitored return to the workplace.

I have had two periods of maternity leave myself, following both of which I returned to work with no planning and an awful lot of luck! As a result I understand some of the challenges faced by returning doctors plus the importance of the work done by SupportTT, and I am really pleased to be championing it in my Trust.
