Wednesday Afternoon Academic Meeting 2018 Programme

Notes and Guidance to Organisers

The annual programme is distributed in time to allow organising registrars and consultants to plan early. It is advised that planning commences four to six months in advance of your allocated topic, though we appreciate that meetings in January have slightly less notice than is ideal. Registrars and consultants are asked to make contact in good time to plan the session.

Please distribute the running order for your academic afternoon in good time, particularly if you have arranged for an external speaker to attend. If you have organised an external speaker, you may wish let everyone know with a "save the date" email several weeks in advance so they can keep their diary free. The final program should be sent for distribution 7 days before your WAAM, at the latest.

The WAAM audience members differ in terms of interests and seniority; please try to ensure an appropriate balance in content to reflect this. The EULAR session themes of "WIN" (What Is New) and "HOT" (HOw to Treat) are suggested as a basis for the content of a session to ensure that the WAAM keeps attenders up to date.

The WAAM is intended as a learning event for both attenders and organisers. From 2018 it is a requirement that the organising registrar gives a presentation as part of their academic afternoon. This might be a case presentation with discussion, an overview of a topic, a literature review or another format; discussion with the supervising consultant is crucial. Trainees can use this presentation as the basis for a teaching observation assessment (see eportfolio) if desired.

FAMIee (Forum of Academic Medicine) sessions take place on the first Weds of each month. They are prepared by academic/research colleagues but all are encouraged to attend as these sessions are a usual resource for clinical trainees to obtain research updates and develop their own research interests. The sessions may involve discussing work already performed or plans for future research and relevant new research published in the area.

Timings: The WAAM should run from 1430 until 1700, with a break for refreshments of about 20-30 minutes.

Swaps may occasionally be necessary. If you do need to swap for an unavoidable reason, please arrange with colleagues. It is expected that trainees will secure the approval of both consultants involved in the swap and notify the WAAM coordinator. If consultants need to swap, please organise with a consultant colleague and let the WAAM co-ordinators and relevant trainees know.

Trainees are reminded that WAAM attendance is mandatory – including FamLEE sessions and Regional Rounds. It is acknowledged that on occasion, clinical commitments may mean you are unable to attend – but this should be rare, as WAAM attendance is part of the trainee timetable. Over the course of a year, attendance of 75% is expected.

The sessions are scheduled to take place in the LMBRC unless otherwise advised.
